

2025 Stahlman Beekeeping E-mail Notes Issue #17a

Yes, the honey flow is on here in Raleigh. I haven't had much time to check my bees this week because I spent 40 hours plus driving time going back and forth to North Carolina State to participate in the College of Veterinary Medicine beekeeping program for 20 students. I have provided some information in this article about the drugs, we as beekeepers might use that require prescriptions.

Hopefully this article will touch on things that might be of interest to you. As you may know, medicine used for humans are affected by over - use and therefore, treatment for diseases by antibiotics are not working as they did in the past. Goggle the topic Antibiotic Resistance to see why it is a big issue and why it required action by Congress to prevent a disaster just waiting to happen.
